

The diagram illustrates a 2D grid of data points. It consists of two vertical columns, each containing three square boxes. Each box is divided into four triangles by two diagonal lines and contains the word "Image" in its center. This represents a collection of 6 data points arranged in a 2x3 grid.